Enlisted Cap Insignia, 1905-1917

In 1905 the army reduced the size of most enlisted cap insignia, and in many instances, introduced more modern designs. All cap devices have a screw post and a special nut to fit into the grommet, plus a thin washer. In many cases enlisted collar insignia were identical in design to the cap insignia, but collar insignia had pin backs while the cap ornament had a screw post.

A collection of service cap insignia for 1905-1917 is shown below.